The JET will soon re-open its doors. More surprises coming!!

A bit of history of this building starting in 2011 to its very beginning... Part 1

... The former Studios Decca will be taken over by Jet Studio in 1997 and they will equip the studio with high performing recording technologies, comparable to those used by Michael Jackson. In 2010 however, a slowdown in activities will oblige the owner of Jet Studio, Staf Verbeeck, to sell the facilities. In December 2010, it will be bought by Rising Sun Studio represented by Rudy Coclet and the Caraïbes Studio, represented by Pascal Flamme. Jet Studio hence remains a recording studio with high quality and leading edge technology equipment. They are going on under the name "Jet Studio". The house on 218 chaussée de Jette still shows on its facade the place of a former canopy roof that used so serve as pigeon house like many other houses in the surroundings.
